

HSS C013 (Social & Business Etiquette)

Daw Saw Win

Associate Professor

Faculty of Computer Science, MIIT

What will be covered today

- ❖ Moral
- ❖ Morality
- ❖ What is Ethics?
- ❖ The Differences between Morals, Ethics, and Laws

Moral Code

- Set of rules
- Establishes boundaries of generally accepted behaviour
- Express in statements how people should behave
- Fit together the individual rules to form the moral code
- Different rules often have contradictions

Example

conflict between loyalty and the value of telling the truth.

Morality

- a set of social conventions about right and wrong that are so widely shared that they become the basis for an established consensus

Examples

- Always tell the truth.
- Do not destroy property.
- Keep your promises.
- Do not cheat
- stem cell research

Morality (Cont'd)

❖ According to individual views of behaviour, Morality may vary by:

- Age
- Cultural group
- Ethnic background
- Religion
- Life experiences
- Education
- Gender

Morality is herd instinct

in the individual

What is Ethics?

E T H I C S

A set of beliefs about right and wrong behavior within a society

V I R T U E S

Habits that incline people to do what is acceptable

V I C E S

Habits of unacceptable behavior

Virtues and vices define a personal value system – Scheme of moral values

The Importance of Integrity

Integrity is a cornerstone of ethical behaviour

❖ People with integrity:

- Act in accordance with a personal code of principles
- Extend to all the same respect and consideration
- Apply the same moral standards in all situations

Lack of integrity emerges if you apply moral standards differently according to situation or people involved

Many ethical dilemmas are not as simple as right versus wrong

The Differences between Morals, Ethics, and Laws

Morals

one's personal beliefs about right and wrong.

Ethics

standards or codes of behavior expected of an individual by a group (nation, organization, profession) to which an individual belongs

Laws

a system of rules that tells us what we can and cannot do

Laws

- Laws are enforced by a set of institutions
- Legal acts conform to the law
- Moral acts conform to what an individual believes is the right belief of right and wrong

Summary

- ❑ Morality
- ❑ Ethics
- ❑ The Difference Between Morals, Ethics, and Laws

- Standards or codes of behavior expected of an individual by a group (nation, organization, profession) to which an individual belongs.
- A. Moral
- B. Law
- C. Ethics
- D. Morality

Ans: C. Ethics

- _____ is a set of beliefs about right and wrong behavior within a society.
- A. Ethics
 - B. Law
 - C. Legal
 - D. Act
 - E. Morality

ANSWER: A

True/False

1. Fairness and generosity are examples of vices. False
2. An organization's mission statement highlights its key ethical issues and identifies the overarching values and principles that are important to the organization and its decision making. False
3. An individual's manager has very little impact on his or her ethical behavior. False
4. Ethics has risen to the top of the business agenda because risks associated with inappropriate behavior have increased, both in their likelihood and their potential negative impact. True
5. Integrity is a cornerstone of ethical behavior. People with integrity act in accordance with a personal code of principles, extend to all the same respect and consideration, and apply the same moral standards in all situations. True

References

1. “Ethics in Information Technology” by George W. Reynolds, Fifth Edition
2. BOS Lectures
3. Images are from Google.